BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT APPROACH

“AIT Group is providing value to the organization as it guides us in the deployment of improvement methodologies. They continue to be a valued partner in our continuous improvement effort.”

Margaret Grotle, Global Six Sigma Leader, Sanofi Aventis

“Delivering Tomorrow’s Results Today”

No matter what your business needs – from Strategy Development, to Value Chain Transformation, to Lean Six Sigma Execution – the AIT Group’s hands-on Business Improvement Approach guarantees results.

Today, AIT Group is an industry leader with significant experience executing business improvement using Lean Six Sigma, Supply Chain, Innovation, and Opportunity Identification. We continue to define the leading edge in business improvement methodologies.

Our Business Improvement Approach is a structured and deliberate method to advance an organization’s ability to achieve business goals and enable long-term, sustainable, competitive advantage.

We accelerate business benefits through the tailored integration of knowledge transfer and professional support delivery methods to achieve breakthrough financial and cultural business impact.

Knowledge Transfer

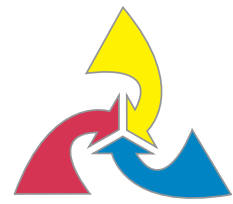

Knowledge Transfer utilizes a train-apply-review approach to candidate skill development, via the blending of a classroom environment and applied application of learned tools to individual organizational projects. If an organization is looking to create a sustainable problem-solving culture, AIT services would be aimed at developing the supporting infrastructure and the internal skill set of the organization.

Professional Support Services

Professional Support Services provide your organization with a knowledgeable AIT Group expert, who works hand-in-hand, with you, to execute high-priority projects by utilizing performance excellence tools. We help our clients address burning, complex, issues within their organization, delivering tangible bottom-line results quickly.

All four of AIT Group’s services can be delivered through our Knowledge Transfer methodology (employee skill development), our Professional Support Services (direct project support), or in tandem. Both methods have been very successfully integrated to achieve maximum business benefits.
